B. & M. CLAIM IT IS OVERVALUED

Makes Protest Before Tax Board and Says That Other Property Escapes Full Tax

Concord, N. H., Sept. 30.—Counsel for the Boston & Maine Railroad appeared today before the State Tax Commission in support of their contention that the corporation is overvalued and that, despite the efforts of the Tax Commission to bring the assessed valuation of other property in the state up to its full value, such property is still undervalued.

Wheeler Hale of Laconia and Morton C. Bradley of Portsmouth, in the employ of the railroad, presented tabulations bearing upon the subject.

It appeared, taking the net earnings of the system in the state of New Hampshire as worked out according to the rules laid down by the Public Service Commission and presented to

ANOTHER FINE PROGRAM.

Patrons of Portsmouth Theatre Pleased With Pictures and Vaudeville.

Another large audience was present at Portsmouth Theatre on Monday evening to witness the choice program of photo plays and vaudeville. Besides the Pathe Weekly of Current Events two very strong feature pictures "The Apache Renegade" and "The Filibuster Ship" were shown. In the first named picture there is a very exciting encounter between Indians and Cowboys, the scene being taken 6000 feet above sea level. In the second picture there is an explosion, together with a raft scene that is finally portrayed.

The Keene sisters pleasing singers and dancers and were given a rousing encore. The Beau Brummel Trio sang in a manner that pleased the large audience. The same program will be repeated this evening.

REED SAYS BULL MOOSERS WANT COMPROMISE

Ex Mayor Eugene E. Reed of Manchester in a recent interview says:

"Already the Bull Moosers have approached us democrats for a compromise. Gov. Bass is there candidate for the United States senate. For the democratic nomination Henry F. Hollis and Clarence E. Carr are fighting it out. The regular republicans will name Henry B. Quinn."

"The Bull Moosers want us to agree to support Gov. Bass for the senate, in return for which they will support our candidate for Gov. Mr. Felker. We have refused to enter into such an agreement."

"If Gov. Wilson is elected in November, as I feel confident he will be, the legislature will incline to the democratic idea and will choose not only a democratic Governor but a democratic senator as well. That is the reason why we are refusing a compromise with the Bull Moosers."

PRESIDENT TAFT AND THE TRUSTS

President Issues a Clear Statement Regarding the Anti Trust Law

Compared with the vague pretenses administration without fear or favor of both Wilson and Roosevelt on the one hand, and that everyone who has violated the Anti-Trust law is the following statement of President Taft from his address of acceptance brought before the bar of the court either in civil or criminal suit to answer the charge.

The anti-trust law was passed to provide against the organization and maintenance of combinations for the manufacture and sale of commodities, to snare at, as innocuous, the decrees which, through restraint of trade, against the American Tobacco Company, by various methods of unfair competition, should suppress competition, in the Democratic platform for establishment monopoly and control prices sent to a compromise in the Standard Oil case. There was no compromise since 1880 and many times entered by the circuit court, and then not until the litigation against the Standard Oil Co. and against the American Tobacco Co. reached the Supreme Court did the statute receive an authoritative construction which is workable and intelligible.

New Constructive Legislation. It would aid the business public if specific acts of unfair trade which characterize the establishment of unlawful monopolies should be denounced as misdemeanors for the purpose, first, of making plain to the public what must be avoided, and second, for the purpose of punishing such acts by summary procedure without the necessity for the formidable array of witnesses and the lengthy trials essential to establish a general conspiracy under the present act. But there is great need for other constructive legislation. It is not expected to show immediate radical changes in the business. It may take some years to show all the benefits of the dissolution, but the limitations of the decrees in those two cases are so specific as to make altogether impossible a resumption of the old combination against which the decrees were entered. Even if experience should show the decrees to be inadequate, full opportunity in future litigation will be afforded to supply the defects.

The contest has been a long one. For years the rule laid down in the statute was ignored and laughed at, but the power of courts of justice pursuing quietly the law and enforcing it whenever opportunity arose, has finally convinced the business public that the anti-trust law means something, and that the policy of the administration in enforcing it means something. A number of these combinations illegally organized and maintained are now coming forward, admitting their illegality and seeking a decree of dissolution, injunction and settlement. They are quite prepared to square with that policy, provided it be definitely enforced and that security shall attend compliance with the law. My belief is that these decrees mark the beginning of a new era in industrial development; that what the great corporations of the country now desire is not what they manifestly did 2 years ago, to wit, to obtain a monopoly in each business, but it is to maintain a large enough plant to secure the greatest economy in production on the one hand and to avoid the danger of the threats of Opposed to Proposed Drastic Amendments.

I am not in sympathy with the purpose to make the anti-trust law more drastic by such a provision as is proposed by the Democratic majority of the investigating committee of the house, for imposing a rule as to burden of proof upon defendants under anti-trust prosecutions different from that which defendants in other prosecutions enjoy. This cannot be suggested by any difficulty found in proving to the courts the illegality of such combinations when the illegality exists. I challenge the production of a single record in any case in which an objectionable combination has escaped a decree against it because of any favorable rule as to the burden of proof. It is true that many defendants in criminal cases have escaped by a failure of the jury to convict, but that arises from the reluctance and refusal of jurors to find verdict upon which men are likely to be sent to the penitentiary for pursuing a course in business competition which the ordinary man did not regard as immoral or criminal before the passage of the act.

Consistent Course in Prosecution of the Law.

I think I may affirm without contradiction that the prosecution of all persons reported to the Department of Justice to have violated the anti-trust law has been carried on in this prosecution and disturbance of their business on the other. It will be the work of the highest statesmanship to secure these ends, and the Republican party if given the power, will accomplish it.

BAPTISTS TO BE IN CONVENTION HERE

Over Two Hundred Delegates Expected for Two Days' Session.

The New Hampshire Baptist Convention will hold its eighty-sixth anniversary in the Middle Street Baptist church Oct. 1, 2, and 3.

While it spans less than a century it gathers up the life of a distinct denomination that has been at work in our state for about one hundred and sixty years. It was as early as 1729 when they first made their appearance in and about Stratham. Their first church was organized in (Newtowne) or as now spelled Newtown. This was in 1750.

Today they have 67 churches, with 55 ordained ministers. They have 104 Sunday schools, and 12 missions. While they have but 4,434 communicants, who are adults, they claim a constituency of 30,000 people. Their contributions last year for the establishment of the kingdom of God on earth was $108,834.51. Their money investment is $796,050.00. Their contributions to missions outside of the state last year were $19,414.63.

The last time that this state body met in Portsmouth was in 1900. That was the year when their first large contribution for state work came from the estate of Daniel Sharp Ford. It came in regular installments for several years, and amounted to over $162,000. This with the regular contributions from the churches of about $2200 has lifted their work into a high state of efficiency. During the last year another bequest that totaled over $44,000 has brought their permanent fund to $226,880.78. They also have funds in trust for many of the churches which amount to $82,250.66. The income from these funds amounted to $11,550.71, and from all sources last year the sum was $14,797.47. All of this they have used for the coming of the kingdom of God here in our own state.

The agencies at work are varied. The object for which this Convention was brought into being was "to concentrate our influence to render assistance to feeble churches, and to sustain the preaching of the Gospel in the destitute regions."

The superintendent who is also the General Secretary is Rev. O. C. Sargent. The evangelist and pastor at large is Rev. John S. Blair, the co-pastor the Rev. A. H. Sargent. There are four workers among the foreign-born, forty-two pastors who are supported in part by the Convention. This brings the workers up to ninety-two. Some of the statistics are six thousands and seven hundred and thirty-two sermons, with quite as many prayer meetings. Eight hundred and eighty-two were added to the church last year.

The Sessions of the convention will be held in the auditorium of the Middle Street church. All are welcome to the meetings. About two hundred delegates are expected from various parts of the state. Arrangements have been made to entertain these in the homes of members of the parish. Dinners and suppers will be served in the chapel.

PRESIDENT TAFT MAY TOUR THIS STATE

Unless some of President Taft's friends in Vermont and New Hampshire can change the tentative program they have mapped out for a presidential visit to their states, the most distinguished baseball fan in the country will miss the world series games in Boston next week, between the Red Sox and the New York Giants.

The president accepted an invitation to witness world series games in Boston the day the Red Sox clinched the American league pennant. Friends in the White Mountains, however, recently asked him to make an automobile trip through the White Mountains, stopping at Brattleboro, Townsend, where the president's father lived, Rutland, Montpelier, Vt., and Bretton Woods and Dublin.

Mrs. Taft has been anxious to make this trip and Chairman Hillis of the Republican national committee is understood to have expressed the belief that it might be of benefit politically to the president.

White House officials are trying to postpone it until later so that the president can see the Red Sox Giants do battle. If they bring about this

Capt. Spaulding of Yale May Prove to Be Best Line Smasher of the Season

NEW HAVEN, October 1—Captain Spaulding of Yale gives every evidence of being one of the greatest halfbacks of the season. In the first battle of the 1912 campaign with Wesleyan it was Spaulding's irascible line smashing that scored Eli's only touchdown in the last two minutes of play. The Methodists held the score at 3 to 3 tie till Spaulding reeled his team around him and the ebbing minutes of the battle hurried successive line attacks—a gallop, the wearying visitors, till their two yard line was reached where the Yale Captain tore through the Wesleyan defense for the seven points that netted victory for the blue.

postponement Mr. Taft will leave, probably, on Oct. 16, keep a speaking engagement in Worcester that day and spend about one week in a White House automobile.

The return journey is planned by way of Poland Springs and Portland, Me., and the president and Mrs. Taft would reach Beverly in time to spend several days here before leaving for Hot Springs, Va., to finish their vacation.

HOUSE DECORATION A MATTER OF CARE

House furnishing and fitting is such a fascinating subject today when beautiful fabrics and charming old reproductions of antique pieces of furniture are available that women prefer to evolve their own schemes of decoration to placing their orders in the hands of professional decorators. The result therefore, is one of original charm rather than merely tastefully decorated interior.

It is in the spring season that all the new patterns in cretonnes, carpets are declared, and many who plunge into new and startling color schemes have learned by experience to modify them somewhat for the autumn. There are many things to be taken into consideration when arriving at a color scheme and nature's lessons are the best; but I must be remembered also what may be entirely successful out of door may fail in its effect when applied to the interior of a room.

A white house is a brilliant note in the landscape with which it sharply contrasts, and the effect is exhilarating but a white interior ceases to be gay and becomes cold and depressing. If on the other hand a white decoration is broken up with a little molding and slight varieties of pastel white either in a frieze paneling or some other form, the decoration is restful and sufficing.

Green which is always the restful nature tone needs softening in doors.

Blue is an easy color to go wrong in, and it can be appallingly cold, hard and cheap looking but the new Chinese blue of this season which is sonorous without dullness is admirably adapted to decorative schemes and has been wonderfully successful. With Chippendale Chinese furniture the most fascinating rooms may be designed.

Another of the new colors of this year is a clear red and this will be exploited for much in the autumn furnishing schemes. It is a rich, warm shade for winter interiors, harmonizing perfectly with dark wood work and oak furniture, with antique tapestries and oriental carpets at its background.

Two harmonizing color blendings which have been very successfully tried this season are violet and blue and brown and gold. The latter is more adapted to library and dining room and the former to dainty boudoir and drawing room. Purple and violet will come into the scheme of color a good deal this winter and we have learned to appreciate the French fashion of mating violet and pale blue.

Consumption

Anyone interested in the treatment of Consumption should get one of the booklets telling of recoveries by the use of Eckman's Alternative. Coughs, Stomach Colds and Pneumonia may be the beginning of more serious troubles—Eckman's Alternative is the effective remedy. Read Mr. Kanaly's statement:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Consumption by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit. At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alternative, which I took with excellent results and was entirely cured. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alternative."

(Sworn Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Benjamin Green and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

COSTS MORE TO PAY TAXES NOW

Today is the last day for the payment of taxes without additional cost or beginning the first of October the law required that notices be sent out to those who have not paid their taxes and for this an additional cost of 20 cents is assessed.

Collector Page has made an excellent showing this season despite the great many protests which were made and a good percent of all the taxes are in. There is or course some trouble about the poll tax, in account of so many who leave the city. The only solution in the minds of everybody connected with the tax question, is a flat rate for the state, which could be collected immediately for the taxes were assessed.

COLDEST SINCE SPRING.

A northwest breeze rendered Monday the coldest since last April, holding us low as 40 above during the night. At 8 o'clock the Boston temperature was 49 and at noon it was 9, with indications it would not go much higher during the day.

As compared with past years, the minimum temperature recorded was our degrees lower than on Sept. 30, 1883, the coldest on record until Monday.

It was pretty cool all over the northern and central parts of the country, the record at 8 a. m. showing: At Eastport and Block Island, 42; Greenville, Me., 36; Portland, Concord, Burlington and Hartford, 40; Northfield 38, Nantucket 44, New York 42, Washington and Pittsburgh 46, Buffalo 48, Chicago 44, St. Louis 44, St. Paul, Bismarck, N. D., and Denver 34.

Key West was warmest, 84 above, and Sheridan, Wyo., was coldest, 24 above.

Except a few light showers in the northeast section during the forenoon the weather was fair all over the country.

The noon forecast for Boston and vicinity was for fair tonight and Tuesday; frost tonight with moderate westerly wind.

There is an especially fine bill at the Portsmouth theatre this week.

WILL RECOMMEND FOUR BATTLESHIPS

General Board Wants United States to Keep Pace With Other Nations.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—To keep abreast of the United States Navy, the General Board of the Navy, headed by Admiral Dewey, has recommended the authorization by Congress next year of four battleships of the Pennsylvania type, two swift and powerful battleship cruisers nearly as large, and a proportionate number of torpedo craft and auxiliaries. As in previous years, the recommendations of the general board are based upon the conviction that a fleet of forty-eight battleships with cruisers and auxiliaries and torpedo craft in proportion is required for the adequate defense of the coasts, commerce and dependencies of the United States. The Secretary of the Navy, George Von L. Meyer, will doubtless be obliged to strike a compromise between the recommendations of the Board and the known opposition of Congress to such large expenditures. In naval circles it is predicted that he will recommend the authorization of three battleships and possibly one battleship cruiser.

For a considerable period, until this year, Congress usually had authorized two new battleships a year, but the Democratic House at the last session cut this down to one. By recommending the construction of three at the session which will end March 4, 1913, Mr. Meyer will try to enable the naval defense to catch up with the former rate of progress. Members of the General Board believe the fleet that it is absolutely necessary if the efficiency of the navy is to be upheld that two be built next year. A hospital ship, repair ship, one or two tenders for submarines and destroyers, supply and ammunition ships, are thoroughly considered in the report.

The report of the General Board defines the increase of the Great Britain, German and Japanese navies as by arithmetical progression. By statistics it demonstrates just how far behind each of the nations mentioned the United States Navy is.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS IN SESSION

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Formal opening ceremonies of the centennial session of the Supreme Council, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite for the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States, took place in Corinthian Hall, Masonic Temple, this afternoon, in the presence not only of the principal thirty-third degree Masons of this jurisdiction, but of members of equally high rank from the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, from Canada and from many foreign countries. Most Puissant Sovereign Grand Commander Barton Smith presided. Following the opening there was a reception to the visitors who have come to assist the Supreme Council in the observance of its one hundredth anniversary. At about the same time at the Copley-Plaza there was a reception to the women accompanying the delegates and visitors, and this was followed by a concert in the ballroom.

Most of the members of the Supreme Council and the visitors arrived in Boston Sunday, there being about two hundred of them registered. The majority of them accepted the invitation of Rev. George A. Gordon, pastor of the Old South Church, to attend services there, and he preached a sermon having special reference to the time and objects of the higher branches of Masonry. In the course of his address he said:

"The great thing in this world is to have a noble cause. You who are joined in a powerful organization, founded on the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, have been a great factor in carrying out that principle. Let it enter into your hearts to advance this universal truth and promote the good of mankind, remembering that our great help is found in God. A mighty fortress is our God."

There was special music by the quartet. This evening at the Copley Plaza there was a banquet for the Royal Order of Scotland.

Tomorrow morning the Supreme Council will settle down to business and Grand Commander Smith will present his annual allocution. The ladies will be taken on automobile and trolley trips. In the evening in Masonic Temple the thirty-third degree will be conferred and the ladies will attend "The Quaker Girl" at the Colonial Theatre.

The committee of the supreme council in charge of the session is headed by Henry B. Quinby, active member from New Hampshire. The committee of Massachusetts Consistory includes Charles Gallagher, Daniel W. Lawrence, Rev. Frederick W. Hamilton, Benjamin W. Rowell, Edward S. Benedict, Eugene A. Holton, Henry N. Fisher, Albert L. Richardson, Everett C. Denton, Joseph T. Paul, Edward O. Hatch, Joseph W. Work, John J. van Valkenberg and Josiah T. Dyer.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS TODAY

Today is the opening day of the shooting season on nearly all varieties of game in New Hampshire. On partridge, quail, woodcock, snipe, duck, rabbits and raccoons, the entire state will be open today, but in Coos county alone is deer hunting allowed this month. In the southern counties of the state, the deer hunting season does not open until Dec. 1, when the small game season closes.

Conditions generally are reported as good, as there has been plenty of rain to keep the covers moist and allow the birds to range where there is food, but the foliage is still heavy and close for bush shooting. Most summer berries are gone and the partridge will be found where winter berries grow. With the recent moist weather, the conditions for woodcock are regarded as unusually good. The veteran coon hunters are planning to go out tonight in order to be in the woods at the midnight hour, when the open season actually begins. There is always an interesting rivalry among the old timers to be first on the ground, where coon have been reported, and to bring in the first skin.

The fox hunting season does not open until October 15, and other fur-bearing animals are protected until that time. The killing of a muskrat, mink, sable, otter, fisher, martens, skunk or fox before October 15 may be punished by a heavy fine.

30,000 VOICES!

And Many Are the Voices of Portsmouth People.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are public praising Doan's Kidney and bladder pills. They say it is friends. They tell it in the home paper. Portsmouth people are in this chorus. Here's a Portsmouth case. James Pickles, 11 Burket St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with kidney disease for several years and was unable to find relief from dull pains in my back until a few months ago when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy. Often I had such acute twinges across my loins that I could scarcely move. The kidney secretions contained sediment, and were so frequent in passage that I was obliged to arise several times at night. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me from the first and continued use entirely cured me."

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1912.

The Bull Moose Performance at Concord.

After months of conferences, rallies, newspaper advertising and other campaign methods, the Bass-Churchill-Rublee party has been given its christening at Concord and, under the leadership of discredited office-holders and defeated candidates for office, is offered to the people of New Hampshire for support.

The national party of the same name is financed by gigantic trusts, with a candidate for the presidency crazed with lust for office, but the party in New Hampshire seems to be financed by its own ambitious office-seekers. Previous to the opening of the convention that gave it birth, an imposing procession, composed of forty people, led by Dan Remick carrying a banner inscribed "Littleton" and followed by four voters from that town, two of whom are in his employ, marched to the hall where the event occurred. State Auditor Frank A. Musgrove called the assembly to order and the men and women in attendance heard a speech by Governor Bass, who presided, and one by Winston Churchill, who preached his usual sermon from the same old text. In accordance with previous arrangement made by the candidate, Mr. Churchill was nominated for governor by acclamation by those present, with the announcement that it was the voice of the people. A sufficient number of names of persons from four counties, either present or absent, were recorded to constitute a state committee, and a platform adopted that covers about every issue that was thought would attract votes; but giving most prominence to opening up a railroad fight, which these same persons have claimed to have such abhorrence for in the past as a mixture with politics.

The afternoon session was advertised as a mass meeting, and was preceded by a monster parade, which was made up of a band, an automobile carrying Governor Johnson of California and the candidates for office in the new-born party, followed by 175 men and women, marching from the railway station through the main streets of the city to the hall, with Dan Remick and the Littleton delegation bringing up the rear. With the stage occupied only by men and women from other states, who are assuming the right to direct the political affairs of New Hampshire, Governor Johnson was introduced as the only speaker. He is a forceful talker, and repeated things said by the Bull Moose about the right of the people to govern their own affairs, which, in view of the stage setting, was more ludicrous than impressive. The citizens of Concord gave but little attention to the show, except as a matter of curiosity, and with the departure of the speaker's automobile and the discharge of the musicians resumed their usual avocations, without the least inclination to consider themselves downtrodden and oppressed, as the wealthy summer boarders leading the movement desired.

Notwithstanding the expenditure of large amounts of money and the frantic efforts of those leading, it is not strange that the third-term party movement gets so little support in New Hampshire. It fails to secure the following that a disturbing element in any matter of public interest naturally gets, however little cause there may be for disturbance. There are at least three important reasons for the failure in this matter. The republican party has by its recent policies and action become the progressive political party in the state, and that a little handful of malcontents cannot dictate and control it for selfish ends is very generally recognized. The people of the state rightly object to having their political affairs placed in the hands of newcomers who have performed no manual labor in the state or had any part in building up the state to its present honorable position among the states of the Union. And for the further reason that the people of the state, in every occupation, under the wise policies of the republican party in national affairs, and economical administration of the state government for a long series of years, are well fed, well housed and prosperous beyond that enjoyed in any previous period, and are therefore satisfied with existing conditions to such an extent as not to be stampeded by the ridiculous utterances of the Chief Bull Moose or his lesser lights in New Hampshire.

These are facts growing more apparent every day, and will be substantiated by indisputable evidence on the 8th of November. The Concord performance will not change the result.—Manchester Mirror.

The Boston Transcript says the story that comes from the colleges of New England, now that they have once more opened their doors, is the usual one of increasing prosperity. It is much too early, of course, to obtain definite figures, but it may be said that, with two notable exceptions, all of our institutions of higher learning have made gains in enrollment.

The Chicago Record-Herald says this is truly a remarkable year. Some people think it has put Pennsylvania in the doubtful column.

General Daniel E. Sickles, Civil War Veteran, And Wife With Whom He Is In Controversy.

When the war relics of General Daniel E. Sickles were about to be sold to satisfy a judgment Mrs. Sickles, who has not lived with her husband for years, came forward and pawned her jewels to satisfy the judgment, proposing a reconciliation on certain conditions. General Sickles rejected the offer and denounced her in a public statement. She thereupon threatened to foreclose a mortgage on his Fifth Avenue (New York) home, but afterward relented, saying that she would do nothing against him. Their son, Stanton Sickles, sided with his mother. General Sickles is a retired major general who lost a leg at Gettysburg. He is nearly eighty-seven years old. Mrs. Sickles belongs to a noble family of Spain. She is General Sickles' second wife.

SECRETARY OF PEACE.

Special Committee Will Sound the Presidential Candidates Regarding the Creation of Such an Office.

New York, October 1.—President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, and Gov. Woodrow Wilson are to be sounded within a fortnight as to their views on the addition to the Cabinet of the President of the United States of a Secretary of Peace. It is further planned by the societies which have allied themselves in this movement to have the American representatives at the International Peace Congress now in session at Geneva, present this question to the representatives of every world power, anticipating the establishment of this high and unusual office generally.

The matter to be presented to the presidential candidates from a special committee representing, besides most of the peace movement organizations, a number of religious denominations. The idea of sectarianism, however, has not entered into any of its deliberations. On the contrary it is understood that the first suggested choice for this office, James Cardinal Gibbons, was made unanimously.

This proposed action may be considered a direct action of that fostered a few years ago by the American Harmony Society. At that time George T. Angell of Boston, the society's President, strongly urged Cardinal Gibbons, holding that his influence would be powerful in preventing future conflicts between the United States and Catholic nations.

The Cardinal has personally made no comment on the proposal as yet, but his interest in cause of peace has always been keen. Allen S. Gili, the biographer says of him in his "Life of Cardinal Gibbons":

"With President Taft, Secretary of State Knox, Andrew Carnegie, and other noted men, he took part in the dedication of a great Peace Palace of the American Republics in Washington, April 25, 1910. His address at the Third National Peace Congress held in Baltimore, in May 1911, was a powerful appeal for an appropriation treaty between the United States and Great Britain as a forerunner of similar conventions binding all nations. The president of the congress introducing him characterized him as one of the most potent forces in the world for the abolition of war and recalled the appeal issued by Cardinal Gibbons, Logue, an Vaughan at Easter, 1896, as one of the great contributory causes of the Hague conference of 1899. It is said that the office of Secretary of Peace as proposed carries so special authority, being an advisory one for the most part. The exact draft of this innovation and the style of its presentation for the approval of the candidates for President will not be made public until they have received the question direct.

It is understood however, that the various possible contingencies arising from the opening of the Panama Canal; the strained relations between France and Germany, the ferment in the Far East, the Turk-Greek war and the disturbances in Central America are items dealt with forcibly and at length.

SURPRISE PARTY AT SOUTH ELIOT

Ernest Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cole of South Eliot was pleasantly surprised on Monday evening, when about twenty of his young friends invaded his home. Their visit was a complete surprise to "Top" but he soon recovered his composure and made every one feel at home.

The evening was pleasantly passed with music and games. Light refreshments were served to which all did ample justice. During the evening Clarence L. Moody in behalf of those assembled presented "Top" with a handsome and costly watch fob. This recipient responded by thanking the donors for their timely remembrance.

The evening was greatly enjoyed by all present and the time to take their departure for home came altogether too soon. Much credit should be given to Miss Lura Staples and Miss Nettie Wentworth who so skillfully planned the surprise party.

Those present were the Misses Lura and Agnes Staples, Nettie Wentworth, May Moody, Dorothy Manson, Marion Cole, Muriel Spiney, May Wilson, Messrs Everett and Edison Cole, Ernest and Herbert Woods, Mabel Moulton, Vivian Fernald, Adelle Spiney, Harold Keefe, Harlan Huntress.

KILLED HIS WIFE.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 30.—After beating his young wife Helena with an iron poker, Patrick F. Hanley, 29 years old, left her lying on the floor and then went to bed late last night. Today when he awoke he saw his wife lying dead while his four little children slept on in an adjoining room, unconscious of their mother's death. Hanley then went to the police station and told the officers that he had killed his wife. The police went to the house and softly carried the sleeping children away from the scene of the murder.

Hanley pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the district court and was held without bail for the grand jury.

According to the story Hanley told the police he came home late last night and found his wife lying intoxicated on the floor. He took a poker and "gave her a beating" he said, and left her lying on the floor while he went to bed. The woman's body was covered with wounds. Hanley is a shipping clerk in a local mill.

PROTEST STRIKE LEADS TO MUCH RIOTING

Lawrence Police Make Free Use of Their Clubs -- Italians the Only Operators to Remain Out.

LAWRENCE, Sept. 30.—Ugly riot—a constant succession of sallies by mob until relieved by the police. The police themselves completely "lightened up" in the matter of clubbing and arresting. At the slightest excuse the clubs came out and got to work. Their method also was changed. They travelled in large squads, each under command of a sergeant. The squads went out to do some one particular job, cleaned it up, did anything else that needed doing, and formed up to go elsewhere.

"Protest Strike" Not Unanimous.

The trouble started at 5.50 a. m., on Essex street at Mill street, where the workers go down to Washington Mill. The very "protest strike" was not to be unanimous, for it came in loaded with workers with their lunchboxes.

There was already a large crowd loafing about on Essex street. This "picket line" was in direct disregard of the urging of the English speakers at meetings in the last two days, but in line with the suggestions of French, Polish and Armenian speakers after the parade yesterday.

As the early car came in, young men ran out into the street, some getting on the track and others jumping on the front platform and tightening the brake, stopping the car. The motorman fought pluckily for a moment, there was a rush of policemen, a lively tussle round the car where workers and strikers were fighting, and then the crowd was scattered and the incident was over.

But it was only the beginning of the worst morning of violence so far. Young men ran aimlessly and wildly about in the street, taking leaps into the air, waving their arms and yelling. The tiniest incident set the people running into a cluster; then would come the police, shoving, and the crowd would break up, only to race to another spot within the minute and repeat the performance.

Those who wanted to go to work were frightened. A fireman brought his daughter down Mill St., and had to fight three or four men to get her through. He succeeded, and after seeing the young woman safely within the mill gates, the fireman returned to the crowd of pickets. Here he pointed out a man who, he claimed, had struck his daughter. The alleged assailant was arrested.

That is easily explained by comparing some other car with the Cadillac.

Any Car at any price will be honored by comparing it with the Cadillac, the original and only positive self-cranker to date.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED--"CASCARETS"

Salis, Calomel and Cathartic Pills

Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostriils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have blackheads and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the food, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the concentrated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will brighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

ent out in machines, as disturbances were reported.

After the mills opened, many who went into the Washington mill came out again. The Wood and Ayer suffered more losses this morning, but the Pacific hardly lost a workman. At the Everett a great many Poles stayed out, but it was impossible to estimate their numbers.

Archie Adamson was on the street early, and did his best to prevent rioting, jumping in between the assailants and the assaulted in more than one case. Later, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn came down, but beyond walking down Essex street and back again, she made no demonstration.

The Germans from Prospect Hill feared to cross the Italian quarter on Common street. They accordingly marched down in a compact body, which broke up only when it reached Essex street.

As late as 8 a. m., the trouble was still going on, though the two arrests at that hour were in one case for carrying a red banner and in the other for refusing to move on when ordered.

There was no leadership anywhere in the mob; it was the purest, most aimless rioting.

Man Pushed Off Running Board.

A man jumped on an east-bound car and pushed another, standing on the running board, off into the street. The man came down on his back and head with a terrific thump, and it was a miracle that his skull was not fractured.

A big fellow deliberately kicked an old woman, Inspector Voss got him. Newspaper photographers annoyed the police, working up close to every clubbing incident. One policeman liked it so little that he smashed the newspaperman's camera, knocking the lens to a considerable distance.

Perfect Halt of Clubbing.

The police were not content with clearing Essex street, as they have been before. They went into Common street in a squad of about 20 patrolmen, and, finding a particularly big crowd of Italians there, they started a perfect halt of clubbing. It was not driving the crowd; it was knocking men out. In a moment a dozen men were sprawled on the pavement, and some of these the police continued to beat after they were down. Another lively clubbing started on Union street, though not so many were knocked out here. All up and down Essex street the police ranged, and squad after squad was Wide-Flung Picket Lines.

The rioting centered in the territory contiguous to the Washington and Everett Mills on the north side of the Merrimack River and extended southward between the Duck and Kunhardt Mills to the Duck Bridge. There was some picketing, too, in the vicinity of the Wood and Ayer Mills on South Lawrence, and even as far as the North Andover line on Merrimack street, the picket line was thrown out. The Upper and Lower Pacific and Arlington Mills received little attention from the strikers.

For a time before the arrival of the police the pickets ran things with a high hand at the junction of Essex and Mill streets the latter thoroughfare being the approach to the Washington Mills. Men with dinner boxes under their arms or overalls and towels under their arms were spotted as soon as they neared the corner, and the pickets wasted few words. Half a dozen would center around the operative and forcibly drive him in the opposite direction.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTOR HANSCOM DEAD

Word was received here on Monday evening of the death of Naval Constructor John P. Hanscom, U. S. N., retired, at his home in Philadelphia on Monday afternoon. He was a native of Elliot, Maine, and was entered the navy as a young man and he has had a long and honorable career.

He was 71 years old and he has been retired for some years, but has been on active duty the greater part of the time, his last duty being on the Board of Changes.

Constructor Hanscom was stationed for several years at the Mare Island yard, and he also has served at this station. He was one of the old school of constructors, who were instrumental in the building of the new navy. He was a brother of the late Justin V. Hanscom of this city, and he leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. Libbey of Kittery Point, and a son, Bradley Hanscom of New York.

FEW SNAKES TO BE DREADED

North America Fortunate in That Has Not Many Reptiles That Are Poisonous.

North America, says Allen Samuel Williams in Boys' Life, the Boy Scouts' Magazine, has two kinds of poisonous snakes, one of them the elapine or coral snake—related to the cobras of the old world—found only in the Gulf states and Mexico. They are small and uncommon. The really dangerous serpents are the rattlesnakes of a dozen important species, the copperhead of the eastern United States and the water moccasin of the states south of the Ohio and the Potomac rivers. These three are of the crotaline or pit viper family. As a large proportion of America's camping out is done in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and New England and eastern Canada, it may be reassuring to know that east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers there are but two species of serpents capable of inflicting injury upon or possibly killing a human being—the copperhead snake and the banded or timber rattlesnake, unless account be taken of the dwarf prairie rattlesnake of the middle west, now nearly extinct. Mere mention may here be made of the only lizard to some extent poisonous—the bearded lizard or gila monster of our southwestern deserts.

QUEBEC A CITY OF THE PAST

Development of Canadian Dominion Goes Forward, but She Has Little Part in It.

Quebec herself rather endures being quaint than enjoys it, for in this day of Canadian development she has dreamed of the future after the fashion of those insistent towns further to the west. "It has not been pleasant for her," says Edward Hungerford in Harper's Weekly, "to drop from second place in Canadian commercial importance to fourth or fifth. She has had to sit back and see such cities as Winnipeg, for instance, increase from an Indian trading-place to a metropolitan center two or three times her size, while her own wharves rot. It is a matter of keen humiliation to the town every time a big ocean liner goes sailing up the river to Montreal—her river, if you are to give ear to the protests of her citizens whom you meet along the Terrace of a late afternoon—without halting at her wharves, perhaps without even a respectful salute to the town, which has been known these many years as the Gibraltar of North America."

Dig or Die!

No matter what industrial, commercial or social problem is to be solved, it always takes us back to agriculture. Human life begins with an immediate demand for food and clothing, and these in their primary state take us to the farmer. Every article of food, with the single exception of the fishes in the waters, is the product of the soil, and are the various substances from which our clothes are made. Thus human life is directly dependent on the products of the soil, and no considerable population could exist for a day without the daily necessities of life derived from the cultivation of the land. As food and clothing must come from the farm, it is plain that the American people have got to go back to the land or starve. If they will not themselves dig and dig, they will have to employ foreign labor to do it.—New Orleans Picayune.

How Rain Bore Holes.

"When rain falls it does not actually soak into the earth, but bores its way in, forming tiny tubes," says an interesting article in Harper's Weekly. "These tubes are so small that it would be impossible to insert a hair in one of them without bursting its walls. Sometimes the tubes are bored down to a depth of four or five feet. When the surface dries, the water evaporates from the tubes, just as it would from a pipe. If the tube is twisted it takes longer for the water to evaporate. If one takes a rake and lifts the ground after each rain, he breaks the tops of the tubes, and the water will stand in them for months. In this way the farmers of the west, on the semi-arid lands, store the rainfall one year, and raise a crop of wheat every other year—there being sufficient water in two years, but not enough in one, to raise a crop."

She Could Not Distinguish.

"Who are those people over at the little table?" asked old Mrs. Knowall, who was having her first meal at a large suburban boarding house.

"Mr. and Mrs. Brown and their children," she was informed.

"But there are two ladies there, one standing up and waiting on the children and one sitting down," remarked Mrs. Knowall.

"Oh, one is the children's nurse."

"Which one is the nurse?" she inquired eagerly, "the one sitting down or the one standing up?"

Massenet a Twenty-first Child.

If the seventh child of a family is credited, as it not uncommonly is, with certain mystical gifts, it would seem to follow that a twenty-first child should be possessed of some extraordinary talent. However that may be, Massenet, who had twenty brothers and sisters to precede him, very early developed pronounced musical tastes, and at the age of nine he played a Beethoven sonata for an examination, through which he came successfully.

DID BUSINESS IN MILLIONS

But at Close of the Day's Proceedings Bankers Couldn't Produce $40 in Currency.

One discovers more different sorts of odd things in New York than anywhere else in the world. For example, writes the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star, there is a banking house downtown which occupies almost an entire floor in one of the most exclusive business structures. This banking house handles nothing but "big" business. Nothing less than a $1,000,000 transaction can secure the attention of the senior partners. They rather fancy taking complete charge of a great bond issue, which gives their letter writers almost free rein in tying ciphers to numerals. About the time the market closes a fleet of honking motor cars fills the street beneath, waiting for the various partners to "home, John." The other day a man came in with a $40 due and payable, addressed to one of the juniors.

"And I wish you'd let me have the currency," said he. "I'm off for the weekend and need a little change."

The junior partner said, "Certainly." And went through his pockets. He had less than $4. He walked into the glass partitioned room inhabited by the next junior with a request for cash. The next junior had $11 and was on his way uptown. The junior partner tried the seniors. None was in. Then he called the head clerk and asked him to cash a check for the sum.

"Sorry, sir," said the head clerk. "but there isn't $40 in the vaults."

So that a boy was sent to a bank on the street level and the money obtained. The explanation is, of course, that such an establishment has no need for actual cash in the transaction of its business. But it is rather queer that a banking house of such magnitude should be stumped for $40.

MOST HANDSOME OF ANIMALS

Body Stripes of the Zebra Might Have Been Designed by a Draughtsman.

The zebra is, perhaps, of all quadrupeds the best made and most beautiful and by the hand of Nature. To the figure and grace of the horse, it adds the elegance of the stag; and the black and white bands with which its body is ornamented are arranged with such wonderful symmetry that we might almost be disposed to imagine that rule and compass had been employed in their formation. These alternate bands are narrow, parallel and exactly separated. They extend not only over the body, but the head, thigh and legs and even over the ears and tail. They follow so exactly the contour of the different forms that they exhibit the entire figure in the most advantageous joint of view. In the female these bands are alternately black and white. In the male they are black and yellow, but always of a lively and brilliant tint. They also rest upon a ground of short, fine and copious hairs, whose luster considerably augments the general beauty of the colors.

Republic Founded by Charlemagne.

At Trier or Treves, France, the other day there was held one of the most picturesque of international congresses. It was the Marian congress, which interests itself in the teaching of the Roman Catholic church about the Virgin Mary. The most interesting personality of them all, perhaps, presided over the Spanish section. This was Bishop Don Juan Benlloch y Vilvo, sovereign prince of the republic of Andorra. The little state lies high in the Pyrenees, and is under the suzerainty of the president of the French republic and the bishop of Urgel in Spain. The nation, which last year numbered 5,321, has to pay 50 francs a year to France and 460 francs to the prince bishop. The French president and the bishop each nominate a magistrate and they take it in turns to choose a judge of appeal. The republic is one of the most ancient states in Europe, and the bishops of Urgel enjoy their sovereignty over it by virtue of a decree of Charlemagne.

Oldest Hospital in Europe.

Perhaps the oldest hospital in Europe is the Hotel Dieu in Paris, which is said to have been founded in 660. True to its device, medicus et hospes, not only the sick, but also pilgrims and mendicants, regardless of age, sex, condition, creed or nationality, were admitted at all hours of the day and night; no regulations controlled their admission or departure. It was the most important of the 43 hospitals which existed in Paris in 1788 and in which during that year (according to the report of the commission consisting of Bally, Tenon and Lavoisier) 35,000 sick and poor were cared for.—Medical and Hygienic Gazette.

Alpine Road Opened.

The daytime crossing of the fine Alpine road which goes from Brigue in the Rhone valley to Domo d'Ossola in Italy has been authorized by the authorities of the Swiss canton of Valais. It will not be permitted to run at a speed exceeding 11 1/5 miles an hour, and the crossing of the pass at night is strictly forbidden. It is certain that this decision will be welcome in the tourist world and will bring to the highly attractive canton of Valais hosts of motor cars which so far were allowed only in the mountainous Rhone valley, with the impossibility of entering the lateral valleys.

DOES NOT AFFECT ORDER IN THIS STATE

Local leaders of the Ancient Order of United Workmen state most emphatically that the recent arrests of J. Irving Davis and Alfred W. Quigg at Providence, charged with the misappropriation of funds of the order in the state of Rhode Island, will not in the least affect the standing of the order in New Hampshire. Rhode Island, it is understood here, is in a jurisdiction by itself, while New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont form another jurisdiction.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Five members of one family were drowned in the Pigeon River at Omecepe today, the victims being William McCaffrey of Toronto, sales manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, his mother, wife and two children. A 19-pound muskallonge which had been hooked by Mr. McCaffrey was responsible for the deaths of the family party.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Walter Pomeroy of the San Francisco Olympic Club, established a new swimming record across San Francisco Bay yesterday, covering the distance of about four and a half miles in one hour, 51 minutes and 13 seconds. The former record of 2 hours and one minute was made by Robert Heck, Sept. 15.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Charges by S. W. Fordyce, counsel for the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is violating the spirit and letter of the decree of dissolution, will be considered by Attorney General Wickersham next week.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—The Berceford ranch in Chihuahua, in Mexico, was sold to C. K. and E. K. Warren, of Three Oaks, Mich., for $250,000. Washington, Sept. 30.—Generally cool and fair weather will prevail east of the Rocky Mountains the coming week, with frosts during the first days in the North Atlantic States, according to the Weekly Bulletin from the Weather Bureau. "The next general disturbance to cross the country," says the Bulletin, "will appear in the far West Monday or Tuesday, cross the great Central valleys about Wednesday or Thursday, and the Eastern States Friday or Saturday; this disturbance will be preceded by a general rise in temperature and be attended by well-distributed rains. There are no indications at the present time of a disturbance in the West Indies."

Beverly, Sept. 30.—After a month in Beverly, interrupted by many trips, President Taft is beginning to show the good effects of his vacation. When he came to Beverly the President looked pale, and friends noticed that he was not so energetic as usual. Callers who saw him today, however, remarked upon the clearness of his eye, his hearty handshake and cool air. This week promises to be a busy one for the President. He had a long list of hand-shakers today, two meetings in Beverly to attend tonight and will have several engagements.

Valparaiso, Chile, Sept. 30.—As a result of predictions that seismic disturbances were likely to cause much damage in the neighborhood of Valparaiso, the Chilean Government has ordered the warships to remain in port ready for emergencies.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 30.—The seismograph at Spring Hill College yesterday afternoon registered earth tremors, the New York lawyer, before being arraigned in court here, charged with the murder of his erstwhile client, Mrs. Rosa Menachick Szabo. Mrs. Szabo met death while boating with Gibson in Greenwood Lake, this county, and the county authorities maintain that she was strangled, not drowned. Mrs. Gibson will sit near her husband throughout the proceedings. Witnesses were late in arriving, and although the opening of court was set for 11:30 o'clock, indications were that it would be later than this before the case was called.

Goshen, N. Y., Sept. 30.—"I hope for the best." This was the brief statement made this morning by Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, before being arraigned in court here, charged with the murder of his erstwhile client, Mrs. Rosa Menachick Szabo. Mrs. Szabo met death while boating with Gibson in Greenwood Lake, this county, and the county authorities maintain that she was strangled, not drowned. Mrs. Gibson will sit near her husband throughout the proceedings. Witnesses were late in arriving, and although the opening of court was set for 11:30 o'clock, indications were that it would be later than this before the case was called.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Visitors at the Zoo today were surprised at the sounds of music that came from the monkey house. To some it seemed that there was a rehearsal of some Italian opera, but to the more experienced it was evident that some new species of songbird had arrived. Investigation showed that the Hainan gibbons, or singing monkeys, that Mrs. Charles B. Penrose and Thomas Biddle brought from Europe were having their first Sunday morning concert in America.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 30.—The seven-story building on Huron road owned by the H. C. Christy Company, with its contents of wholesale groceries, was destroyed by fire last night. The estimated loss is $500,000, insured. The origin of the fire is not known.

EXETER

The fall work on the highways is being done by Highway Agent Newell S. Tilton, includes several needed repairs to the thoroughfares on the outskirts particularly on the Newmarket road. The steep hill leading down to the bridge near the Conner residence has been put into first class condition the steam roller having been used there for several days last week and the roadbed graded up.

This part of the road was previously laid bare to the rocks and was generally in a poor condition. The hill known as Beckett's Hill has also been repaired and this week workmen are engaged there in repairing culverts along the wayside. A part of the force, however, which last week worked there is now engaged in laying planks on the string bridge.

There are yet several places to be fixed up by the Highway agent. The past summer although not subject to heavy showers has been dry and dusty. It has been a hard season the highways as the heavy automobiles have badly worn them. The state engineer, S. Percy Hooker, was here last spring at the state board of trade meeting and in this talk gave many useful facts regarding the materials and methods of road building.

The winter schedule of the Boston and Maine went into effect at noon yesterday and the running time for a train from that of the summer. Only a few trains have been discontinued these being the express. Both the early morning trains one at 6:19 and the other at 7:15 a. m., will be run this winter this being a surprise to some as there was so much trouble regarding these two trains last year, the early one having been discontinued and after hearings before the public service commission finally restored and the later ones having the same trouble later in the year.

KITTERY POINT

What Is Happening In the Harbor Town.

Mrs. Sarah French of New York is the guest of Mrs. Sarah Amee. The Massachusetts Sewing Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ernest C. Tobey on Thursday, October 10, instead of on October 3, as previously stated.

The schooner Woodbury M. Snow arrived in the lower harbor Sunday night and her Captain reports and unusual experience. Nearly three months ago the vessel left her home port of Rockland, Me., with a cargo of lime for Boston, and on arriving it was found to be on fire. The schooner was at once scaled up as nearly at right as possible, and for ten weeks the vessel has remained at anchor in Boston harbor. The crew meanwhile living on deck, and endeavoring to smother the fire smoldering in the hold. Last week the Captain decided to return to Rockland with the vessel, but the rough sea and heavy wind encountered on Sunday caused the fire to show signs of breaking out afresh, and she made this harbor to await developments. It is claimed that no case has ever been known in which a cargo of lime has remained on fire this length of time without disaster to the vessel.

Hon. Horace Mitchell is entertaining his uncle, Mr. Sayward, of Alfred, Me. R. W. Tone and family, who have occupied the large Stickney cottage on Gerrish island during the summer returned to their home in New York on Tuesday. The dredger Freeport engaged in Pepperell's Cove will henceforth work sixteen hours per day. The Hotel Parkfield closed on Tuesday after one of the most successful seasons in its history. The Atlantic Shore railroad has purchased the cargo of coal in the schooner Thomas Lawrence, now lying at Gloucester, Mass. The tug Mitchell Davis left at midnight Monday night to bring the vessel here. The dredger Casco has once more broken down, and is hauled up for the eternal repairs necessary on this relic of bygone days. Since her arrival in Pepperell's Cove it is possible that she may have worked two consecutive days without a breakdown of some sort, but many would refuse to credit such a statement.

GOING BACK INTO THE PAST

Men of Science Seeking to Discover Facts of Life of Five Million Years Back.

Out in the Nevada desert the professors have been prying into the secrets of 5,000,000 years ago. The discoveries are said to be most important by those who are interested in prehistoric relics. The learned men put the discoveries at the museum period, which is some 5,000,000 years ago.

Among the discoveries is an antediluvian fish that is eighteen feet long. What a whopper of a fish! The prehistoric man must have been when he went back to the cave and told the family about the big one that got away!

And the horse race of that day must have been a peculiar spectacle, for the equine specimen unearthed has three toes on its feet and is about the size of a large dog.

Five million years is too big a flight of time to ask even our fancy to cover. Trips to Mars and visits to the man in the moon are within our range, but when one is asked to go back to the real back-sactory period of the world, we have to draw the line, especially when we learn that we have to deal with three foot horses and eighteen foot long minnows.

And yet we have to wonder at what manner of a world it was then; we have to wonder at the people of the earth, the sea and the air; we have to wonder whether they, too, were bothered with presidential candidates, whether the women demanded the right to vote and whether peek-a-boo stockings were just coming into style.

Well, after all, 5,000,000 years ago is some time!

PANAMA HAT OF COMMERCE

Prized Headgear Made From Palm Leaves Grown in Central and South America.

Panama hats are made from a palm of the "chandelier-tree" family, which grows wild in enormous quantities in the northern parts of South America and in Central America. The greater number of highest grade Panamas are made in Ecuador, with Peru a good second. The best of these sell for $150 each.

The young tender leaves of the plant are gathered before they unfold; all the ribs and coarse veins are removed, and the rest is reduced to shreds without being separated from the stem. The shredded leaves are placed in large earthenware jars filled with water and the juice of lemons and left to soak for from six to ten days. After this they are spread out to dry and bleach in the sun.

The fibers are woven upon a block held upon the knees. The coarse hats are finished in two or three days; the finest take as many months. The best times for weaving are in the early morning and in the rainy season, when the air is moist. In the middle of the day and in the dry season the fiber is apt to break.

Where He Got Them.

Mickey and Pat had been at school together, but had drifted apart in after life. They met one day, and the conversation turned on athletics. "Did you ever meet my brother Dennis?" asked Pat. "He has just won a gold medal in a Marathon race." "That's fine," said Mickey. "But I'd ever tell you about my uncle at Ballythomas?" Pat agreed that he could not call him to mind. "Well," continued Mike, "he's got a gold medal for five miles and one for ten miles, a silver medal for swimming, two cups for wrestling, and a lot of badges for boxing and cycling." "He must be a great athlete, indeed," said Pat. "You're wrong," cried Mike. "He keeps a pawnshop!"

Rape Horseshoes.

Horseshoes of rope are largely made use of in Germany and some other foreign countries, and it is said that there should be some demand in this country, on account of the character of the paving which largely prevails in this country and which is hard on the feet of the animals. The rope is sometimes reinforced with wire and sometimes it is tarred and after being cut and shaped is secured to an iron shoe which is secured to the animal's hoof. While its appearance is not as neat and elegant as a shoe of metal, the soft cushion of rope is very grateful on the animal's feet, and from a humane standpoint it should be more generously made use of.

Device to Protect Sheep.

A device to protect sheep from the threats of wolves, coyotes and other animals has been invented by E. C. Winchester of Thermopolis, Wyo. The machine consists of an automatic gun which will shoot a blank cartridge every thirty, forty or sixty minutes as arranged, while a bull's eye lantern is so adjusted as to revolve and flash its light in every direction. It makes more than one revolution a minute operating by means of a coiled spring and cog wheels, a sort of clockwork in fact. The mechanism is enclosed in a storm and dust proof metal case and is mounted on four adjustable legs. It has a weight of twenty-five pounds so that it can be carried with the sheepman's outfit with no difficulty.
